HOUSE RESOLUTION 451

WHEREAS, In today's world, interstate travel has become both easier and more frequent, allowing for a more mobile workforce; and

WHEREAS, Many people are employed in industries that call for frequent travel, causing a more complex and arduous tax system; and

WHEREAS, In response to a multistate survey, 60% of employers indicated that complying with the State income tax withholding and reporting requirements for employees working in multiple states is currently a major issue or a growing concern; and

WHEREAS, It is very difficult to create a system by which an employer can physically identify when and where employees are traveling, in order to determine how much income tax to withhold and report for each state; and

WHEREAS, Only 44% of employers who responded to the survey currently have any mechanism in place to track and tax their employees based on location; and

WHEREAS, The federal government has introduced legislation that would create a federal threshold for nonresident filing for temporary employee work assignments in nonresident states in order to address the complexity of nonresident taxation; and
